

Councilman Fred Fox's Greetings

Greetings to all our Elders, Community Members and Relatives,

I would like to send my condolences to families that have lost loved ones and those who have loved ones that are going through terminal illness or sickness. Prayers for all of them and the families.

I would like to wish all veterans a happy Veterans Day and thank you for your service and sacrifice for all of us. Just to reflect on my days serving in the United States Navy, I always thought how hard it was being away from family and friends and there was a lot of times I would go to the top of the ship at night and look at the stars and wish that I could be back home in White Shield.

As I get older in life, there are times where I wish that I could go back to that moment in life. Life was a lot easier and simpler, but today I can smile back at the times when I was in the service and glad, I was able to serve our country. I wish more younger ones would enlist in the service these days, I think it would help shape our youth to make them work harder and help them with the dangerous drug addiction occurring with fentanyl and meth. When we were late for work, we were restricted to the ship for a week with no liberty. If we didn't show up for work, we were thrown in the brig for being a deserter.

Today if any workers showed up late for work or had a no call no show, they go right to social media (Facebook) and cut the workplace down or their supervisor. It's never their fault, always blaming someone else. In the end the military would develop the work ethic which is needed for our younger generation.

We are quickly approaching the Holidays with Thanksgiving right around the corner. We are scheduled to have our White Shield Thanksgiving dinner November 21st at 5:30pm. But with the rise in Covid numbers in White Shield we will be having a drive through. We will be serving cooked Thanksgiving Dinner from Homesteaders and Joy Bezpalez and a $100 gift certificate from East Segment and a Turkey from Energy Transfer for everyone's Thanksgiving.

Christmas Holiday will be busy with the White Shield East Segment Christmas Dinner December 20th at 5:30pm, MHA Elder Christmas Party at 4-Bears Casino at 11:00am the same day. The MHA Employee party December 21st and the White Shield East Segment Employee party December 22nd at 4-Bears Casino.

We have been moving along with a lot of positive projects for our White Shield Community, and I understand that not everyone is going to like everything that is happening. I know pleasing everyone is not ever possible. I know each one of the Council Members cares deeply for each of their communities and they always want the best. Trying to develop the needs for the community, so there is always something for the children and elders. Growing up in White Shield, I would never have dreamt we would have a Water Park, indoor basketball gym and track, Splash Pad, Restaurant, Coffee Shop, Fitness Center, Veterans Building, and Indoor Golfing Simulator for year-round golf. I believe we our very fortunate to have these facilities.

The segment has been also doing the best we could with Elder home repairs, these repairs are for homes that need small repairs for the winter conditions. The home repairs are not for home enhancements or upgrades. We want to make sure our elders have the necessities for this winter. I know Chris Everett gets overloaded with the number of requests he gets but he has a great staff that always steps up year-round, especially with furnaces and snow removal.

The White Shield Segment currently has two satellite offices located in Bismarck and Fargo. The address for the Bismarck office is 107 West Main Suites 350 Bismarck, ND and the address to Fargo is 502 1st Ave North Fargo, ND. If we have any Tribal members living or possibly there due to a family member being in the hospital, these are the places that will assist you if needed.

Red Ribbon Week Brings Drug Awareness to Communities Across the Nation

OMAHA, NE – The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Omaha Division is supporting Red Ribbon Week, the nation’s oldest and largest drug misuse prevention awareness program, by teaming with community partners to raise awareness to the consequences of drug experimentation, misuse and abuse. Beginning today, landmarks in Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska will light red in recognition of the annual 10-day event. In addition, Governors from Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota issued state proclamations encouraging citizens to demonstrate their commitment to a drug-free lifestyle.

Red Ribbon Week began following the death of DEA Special Agent Enrique “Kiki” Camarena who was kidnapped, tortured and murdered in 1985 by drug traffickers he was investigating in Mexico. After Kiki’s death, people began wearing red ribbons to honor his sacrifice. Today, millions of people celebrate Red Ribbon Week by wearing red ribbons, participating in community anti-drug events and pledging to live drug-free lives. “I can’t stress enough just how important Red Ribbon Week is to the DEA community and the communities in which we serve,” DEA Omaha Division Special Agent in Charge Justin C. King said. “Last week, I visited with family members who lost loved ones to fentanyl poisonings. We talked about the significant role education plays in raising awareness to the lethal consequences of this poisonous drug. We need to be constantly talking with our youth about the dangers of this drug and others seen within our region. Red Ribbon Week provides us with another opportunity to have these all-too-important conversations.”

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), a leading cause of death for Americans age 18-45 is drug poisoning. The CDC estimates that more than 110,000 people lost their lives to drug poisonings in the United States last year, with nearly 70 percent of these deaths attributed to synthetic opioids including fentanyl.

DEA laboratory testing indicates that seven out of 10 fake pills seized by DEA contains a lethal dose, 2 milligrams or more, of fentanyl. To date, the DEA has seized more than 62 million fentanyl pills, exceeding last year’s total of 58 million pills.

This year, 10 landmarks in the DEA Omaha Division are Going Red for Red Ribbon. A complete list of these landmarks can be found below. Communities across the nation are encouraged to “Go Red” by lighting up classrooms, offices, libraries, town halls and other locations using red bulbs, gel filters or red balloons and decorations. Participants can post their Red Ribbon photos on social media using hashtags, #DEARedRibbon and #GoRed4RedRibbon.

To speak with someone about the possibility of having a DEA education and awareness presentation at your school or community group, please contact DEA Omaha Division Community Outreach Specialist Amanda Frazier at Amanda.M.Frazier@dea.gov.

National Prescription Drug Take Back Day Returns on Saturday

OMAHA, NE – The U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and its partners will host the 25th National Prescription Drug Take Back Day Saturday, October 28, at nearly 170 collection sites across the five state DEA Omaha Division. The public is invited to safely dispose of tablets, capsules, patches and other solid forms of prescription drugs at Take Back locations between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Collection sites will not accept syringes, sharps and illicit drugs. Liquid products, such as cough syrup, should remain sealed in their original container. The cap must be tightly sealed to prevent leakage.

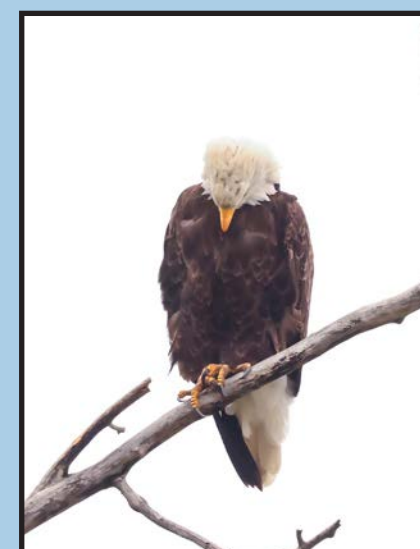

The DEA Omaha Division encompasses Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota. Law enforcement agencies nationwide have partnered with DEA to provide more than 4,000 Take Back sites for people to safely dispose of unneeded prescription medications. A complete list of Take Back sites can be found at www.DEATakeBack.com.

“We encourage everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to rid your home of any prescription medications that are no longer needed,” DEA Omaha Division Special Agent in Charge Justin C. King said. “In addition, consider using this day as a time to sit down with family and friends and have the conversation about prescription safety and the consequences of drug experimentation. These conversations can be hard to start, but they are so important in raising awareness to the dangers of drug use.”

To date, Take Back Day has removed more than 8,650 tons of medication from circulation since its inception 2010.

GRETA WHITE CALFE

“Woman Who Teaches Children”
August 17, 1931 - October 3, 2023

Greta White Calfe, 92, of White Shield, passed away on October 3, 2023, at a hospital in Bismarck, ND.

A Funeral Service will be held at 11:00 AM on Saturday, October 7, 2023, at the New Ralph Wells Community Center, White Shield, ND. Burial to follow at Nishu Congregational Cemetery.

Wake Services will begin at 6:00 PM on Friday, October 6, 2023, at the New Ralph Wells Community Center, White Shield, ND, with a Rosary at 7:00 PM.

Greta Martha (Young Bird) White Calfe, “Woman Who Teaches Children” was born August 17, 1931, to Benjamin Young Bird and Jessie (Everett) Young Bird in Elbowoods, North Dakota. The fourth of thirteen children, with no older brothers, Greta assisted her father with all day-to-day tasks that were required for the successful operation of a cattle ranch. Greta took on the role of hired man for her father, gaining invaluable experience and knowledge to successful ranching. Greta and her father were extremely close as they worked together every day.

Her father, Ben Young Bird was the President of the Cattlemen’s Association. During that time, many of the Arikara tribal members were also members of the Cattlemen’s association and had large herds of cattle and horses. The ranchers would cut out the cattle they wanted to sell from their herd and all that cattle were gathered in one large group to take to the nearest train for shipment.

Greta, the only female, would ride her horse “Power River” right alongside the men and boys as they drove the cattle along the banks of the Missouri River up to Elbowoods. The riders would herd the cattle across the Elbowoods Bridge and proceed on to Haliday, North Dakota where the cattle would be put on the train to South St. Paul, Minnesota for sale.

Though her upbringing was extremely difficult, Greta would look back fondly on her youth and all the experiences and lessons she learned. Often stating later in life that she never realized how poor her family was because all the other families were in similar situations –but her family had everything they needed. She and her siblings weren’t allowed to accept charity from the government or church because if they couldn’t work for something, they didn’t really need it. She carried those lessons and a similar belief in hard work and self-reliance with her till the end. Though she didn’t believe in accepting charity, she was an extremely giving person. Believing that her hard work and success was to provide for her family but also assisted others as often as possible. Never turning down a person in need, Greta chose to see the good in everyone. Her granddaughter Ariel remembers her always saying “If my loved one were in need, I would hope someone would help them, so if I can help someone I will.”

Education was a dream of Greta’s. After graduating from Elbowoods High School, she enrolled in Minot State College in Minot, North Dakota to obtain her Teachers Degree, which she did in 1951. She began her career as an educator at Ziegler School, a one room school located three miles south-west of White Shield, in the fall of 1951. Throughout the 50s’ she continued to work at multiple one room schoolhouses, also known as country schools, in McLean County. During her time working in country schools Greta was the teacher, for grades first through eighth. Her duties also included being the nurse, cook for the “hot lunch program”, as well as maintenance. While teaching at the O’Shea School, located two and a half miles from her home, Greta had to ride her horse Big-Enough, her iron-grey horse, to and from school cross country as no roads existed; she remembers one winter day it was approximately -30 degrees, she had so many layers of clothing on that she couldn’t get on her horse without the assistance of a parent.

Also In 1951, Greta married her long-time sweetheart Oscar White Calfe and together they moved approximately five miles away from her childhood home to the place she lived until the end. Oscar and Greta began their life together raising their cattle as well as cattle owned by Oscar’s parents and sister. Agriculture was always a major aspect of Greta’s personal life. In 1969, Oscar and Greta were awarded McLean County Soil Conservation’s Conservation Award for their tremendous efforts to establish a responsible grazing and growing plan on their land.

In 1956 Greta and Oscar welcomed daughter Verlee, their only biological child, into their lives. As such, Greta decided to take a break from teaching to focus on her family. In 1961, Greta accepted a position to teach fifth and sixth grades at the Cannon Ball School in Cannon Ball, North Dakota on the Standing Rock Reservation. Greta and her dear friend Lena Malnourie would commute almost every weekend from their homes in the White Shield area to Cannon Ball and stay in the teacherage during the week. Greta’s class sizes were thirty or greater. During her decade working at the Cannon Ball School she made many lifelong friends.

Being away from her family was hard. Greta considered stepping away from teaching, once again, to return home full time. In 1971, Greta was brought on as an assistant teacher, of first and second grades at the White Shield School, at the request of her friend and mentor Mrs. Margaret Breauer, the first-grade teacher. Mrs. Breauer felt the first and second grade classes were too large for one teacher to adequately manage (47 in first grade) and saw it as an opportunity for Greta to move home full time; at the time, Mrs. Breauer was one of two Native educators employed at White Shield School. Once Mrs. Breauer retired, Greta became the full-time first grade teacher, which she remained until she retired in May 2005.

Greta always had a love for her students and often went above and beyond what was required of her to help them. In 1973, Greta became the volunteer coordinator for the Children Incorporated program for the White Shield students k-12, which is a program that provides financial assistance to students by sponsoring them in order to improve their educational experience and outlook on life; this she did for 32 years and put in countless hours of her personal time to keep the program running.

When Verlee and Frank (adopted) were in high school they became active in rodeo. As an opportunity to spend more time together, Greta and Oscar became active in rodeo as well. Greta barrel raced, breakaway roped, and team roped as well as became the first secretary for the Great Plains Indian Rodeo Association (GPIRA). Rodeo became a beloved pass time for the family, and together, they competed across much of the western half of the United States.

In 1983, Oscar lost his battle with terminal cancer, leaving Greta and their daughter Verlee to continue the ranch. Greta built her cattle herd up to approximately 300 pair by the mid-1990s when Three Affiliated Tribes Councilman Austin Gillette nominated her for the Farm & Ranch Guides’ Country Woman of the Year, for which Greta was runner up; competing against women from North and South Dakota as well as western Minnesota and eastern Montana. With the kids grown and Oscar gone, Greta no longer found the joy in rodeo she once had and decided to step away from it.

In the early 1990s, Greta and a few other passionate Sahnish, the Arikara’s word for themselves, educators within the school decided to begin working on a curriculum focused on the Sahnish people, so that they could help integrate culture into the classrooms. They created the Sahnish Cultural Society with this mission in mind, as well as a desire to educate the neighboring communities. Greta served as President of the organization from its foundation until she stepped down in 2019. During her time working with the Sahnish Cultural Society, Greta (as well as board members Lena Malnourie, Bonnie Fox and Ethan White Calfe) had the opportunity to speak about the Sahnish at many culturally rich locations including Knife River Indian Villages National Historic Site, Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument and Fort Stevenson State Park, just to name a few.

Greta retired from teaching in 2005 to spend more quality time with her family and assist in raising her two youngest grandchildren, Ariel and Ethan. She continued to raise cattle, along with her daughter Verlee and grandson Ethan. Though she stepped down from the board of the Sahnish Cultural Society in January of 2019, she continued promoting her culture, through the creation of her hand-made Star Quilts.

Greta would speak very highly of her 53 years as an educator and remembered it fondly; believing that a good education is the foundation of a successful life, knowing she did her best to help each one of her students succeed. She loved looking back through photos of her classes and was touched when her former students stopped her in public to visit. Greta taught multiple generations to read and write and had such passion for it that her aunt Melvina Everett gave her the Indian name “Woman Who Teaches Children” for which she was incredibly proud to be called. She stated that her great love for teaching and children is one of the great joys of her life; second only to her family. She said that she has always lived her dreams, if she had it to do it all over again, she wouldn’t change a thing.

In her later years, Greta was cared for by her youngest (some might say favorite) grandchild, Ethan. Together, Greta and Ethan had so many great adventures and made so many incredible memories. A highlight for Greta was when Ethan took her to Italy to be present during the canonization of St. Kateri Tekakwitha. Greta was impressed how she always managed to end up in the front of the crowd, traveling in a wheelchair much to the detriment of many strangers’ feet.

On October 3, 2023, Greta passed peacefully, surrounded by her family, into the next world. She will be greatly missed by many. Her kind and loving soul is at rest.

Greta is survived by her Daughter, Verlee White Calfe-Sayler; Son-in-law, Kenny; Grandchildren, Joshua, Jacob, Ariel, and Ethan; Son (adopted) Frank Whitecalf; Daughter-in-law, Donalda; Their children, Justin, Garrett, and Tyler; Special Nephew, JD Young Bird; His wife, Patti; Their children, Sadie, Jimmy, and Callie; Special Niece, Lori Rosales; Her husband, Martin; Their children, BJ, Rigo, Chantel, Chacho, and Jose. Sister, Marilyn Young Bird; Brother, Joseph Young Bird; Brother, Felix Young Bird; Sister, Sara Young Bird; and too many beloved nieces and nephews and extended family to list.

Greta is welcomed home by her husband, Oscar White Calfe; Her parents, Ben and Jessie Young Bird; Siblings, Margie Young Bird, Maggie Yellowbird, Pliga (Elizabeth) Bordeaux, Teresa Danks, Delphine Hall, Jimmy Young Bird, Laverne Pfliger, and Hans Young Bird.

November 3, 2023

Native American voters and the Mandan, Hidatsa and Arikara Nation (MHA) alongside the state of North Dakota, successfully defended the creation of House District 4A, a subdistrict that follows the boundaries of MHA's Fort Berthold Reservation. On November 2, 2023, a panel of judges in the U.S. District Court for the District of North Dakota ruled in favor of the tribal intervenors, granting summary judgment and finding compelling and unrefuted evidence that the new subdistrict is required under Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act (VRA).

"This decision ensures that our representation at the state level is not diminished," said MHA Chairman Mark N. Fox. "The Mandan, Hidatsa and Arikara Nation joined this lawsuit to support the Native voters who finally gained a voice in the North Dakota legislature because of House District 4A. For the first time in a long time, MHA voters were able to elect a candidate of their choice last year."

"This decision will positively impact North Dakota and the lives of everyone who lives on the reservation for years. Representation matters and I will continue to work hard to have their voices heard and their issues addressed," said plaintiff Representative Lisa DeVille of Mandaree, North Dakota, who is an MHA citizen and who was elected as the state House Representative for the new subdistrict 4A in the last election.

Plaintiffs and local Republican party officials Charles Walen and Paul Henderson filed the lawsuit, claiming that the state had engaged in racial gerrymandering, which the court firmly rejected. The decision noted that the state created the subdistrict to prevent Native vote dilution, and that "... without the subdistrict, Native American voters would in fact have a viable Section 2 voter dilution claim under the VRA. Taking that unopposed evidence as true, granting Walen and Henderson the relief they seek as to district 4—eliminating the subdistrict—would be itself a violation of the VRA and federal law."

"Protecting the new MHA subdistrict was important because we have fought so hard to be able to exercise our right to vote in North Dakota. Native people simply must vigilantly defend every gain we achieve as voters," said plaintiff Cesareo Alvarez, Jr.

The Native American Rights Fund (NARF), Campaign Legal Center (CLC), and The Law Office of Bryan L. Sells, LLC, represented the individual voters and MHA Nation who intervened in the lawsuit brought against the state by Walen and Henderson in 2022.

"The Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara Nation have a right to representation at the state level. This order shows that claiming racial discrimination that results in stripping voting power from Native Americans will not be tolerated. Native voters in this part of North Dakota finally have a voice in the state legislature, which has been a very long time coming," said NARF Staff Attorney Michael Carter.

"MHA voters in North Dakota deserve to have a say in the issues that impact their lives," said Mark Gaber, senior director of redistricting at Campaign Legal Center. "We are heartened by this decision that protects MHA representation, and will continue to work to ensure that North Dakota's Native voters can make their voices heard in our democracy."
